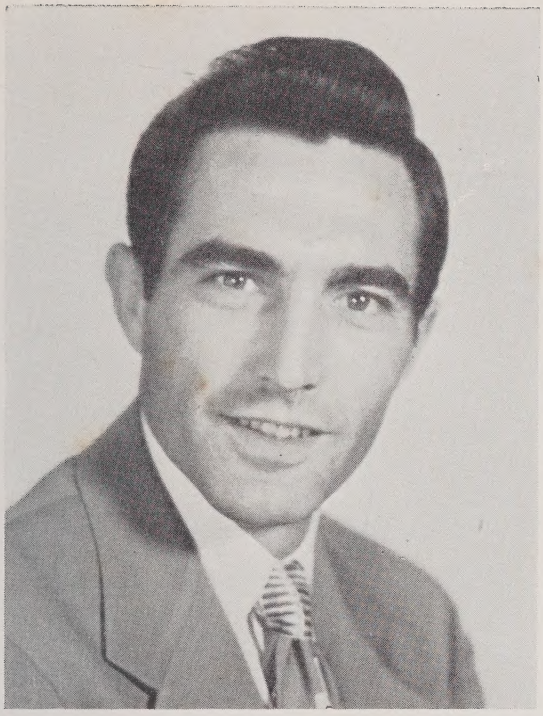
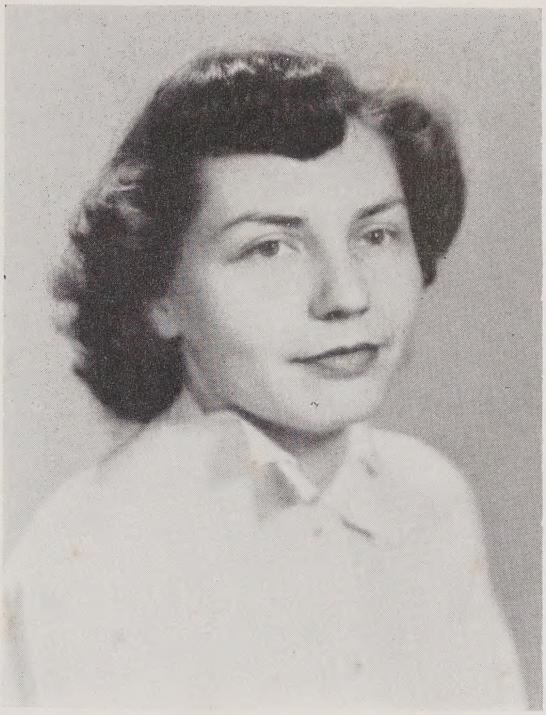
FOREWORD

The legend connected to the name "Turkey Tail" is very odd.

During the 1800's when Glen Alpine was only a small village, a man, now unknown, cut down a tree on the hill overlooking the town. As the tree lay there, limbs began to shoot from the roots. Finally leaves began to spread on the limbs in a fan-shaped array. Railroad workers passing through during the evening twilight would look up at the hill and say, "Well there's the old turkey with her tail feathers spread." And since then Glen Alpine has been humorously called "Turkey Tail."

Another feather has fallen from the turkey's tail as we, the Senior class of 1951, have striven to prepare a future for ourselves while in school. It has not all been work nor play. We have accomplished much, but who is to remember us after we leave our Alma Mater? Will we be just another graduating class? We hope not. It is for this reason we leave this annual to be read and cherished. Thus we leave a lasting memory of the class of '51; a memory that shall ever be refreshed as the pages of this book are turned.





DEDICATION

To George and Louise Rodgers

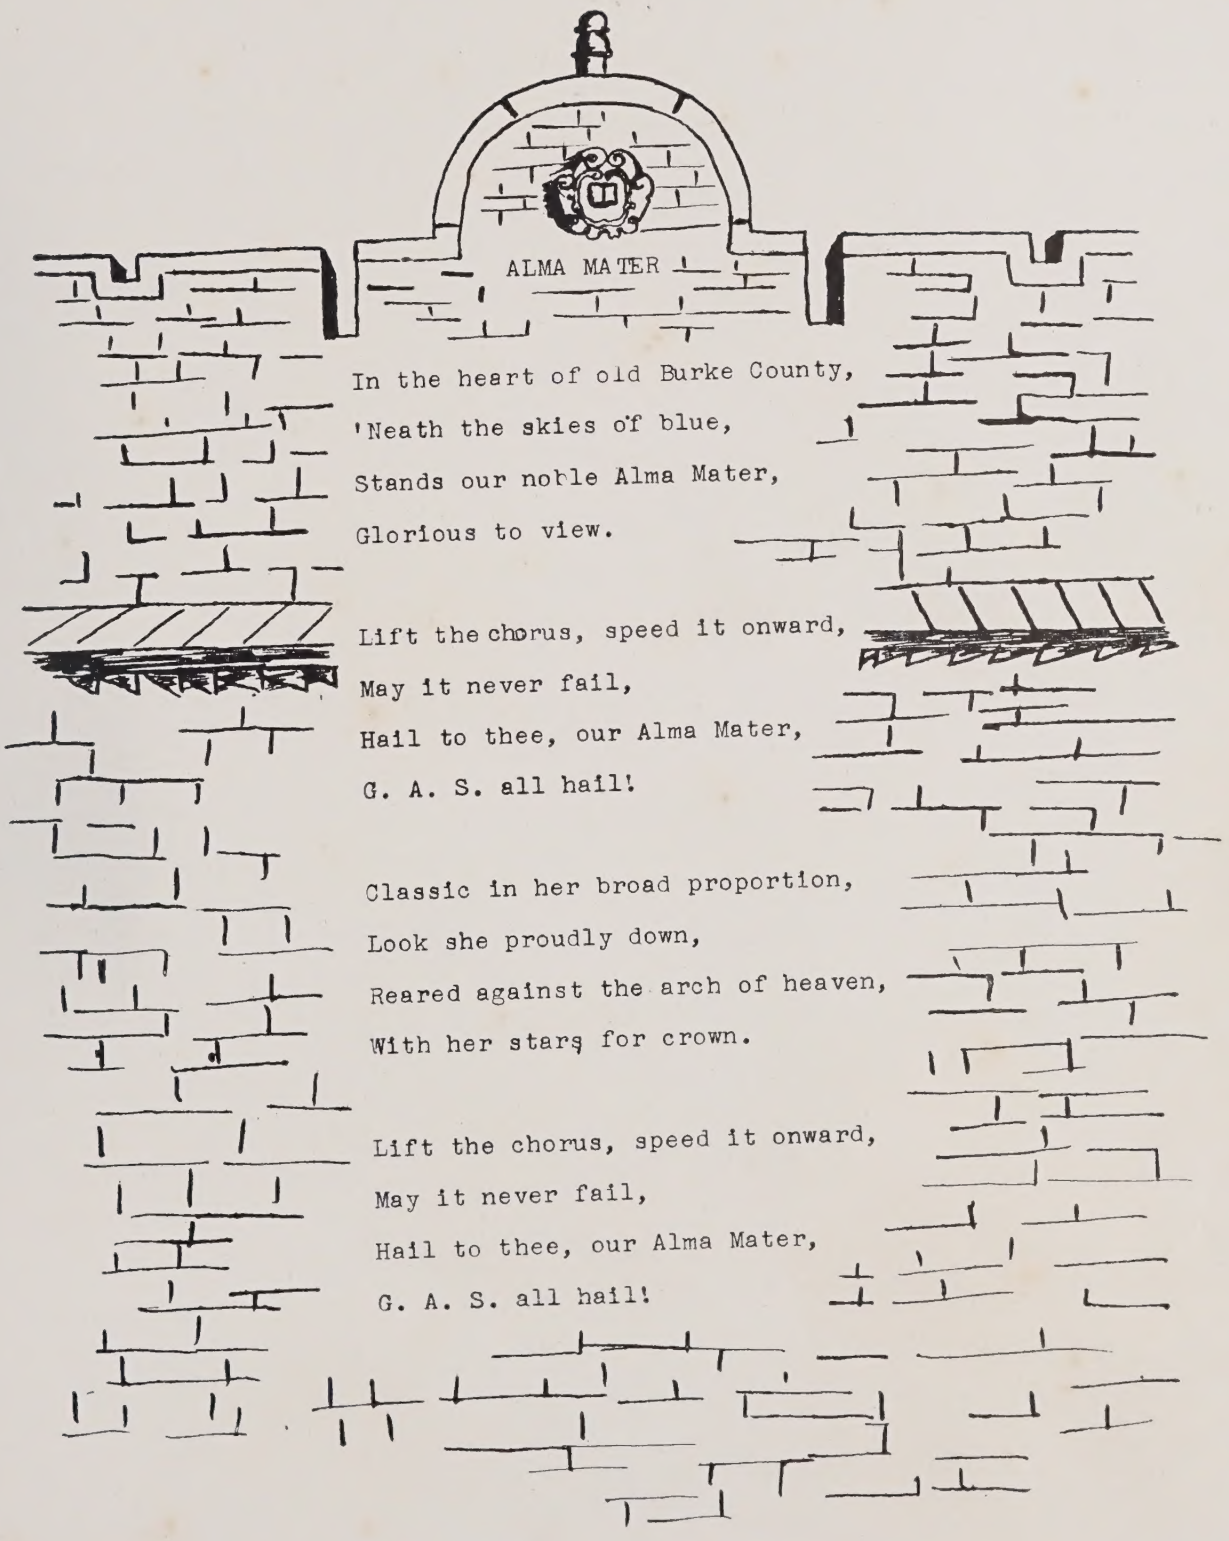
Because we love both of them, we love them as teachers; for their sense of humor and unselfishness, for their humane qualities, for their ability to listen and give counsel. In appreciation for all they have done for us, we dedicate this

1951 Turkey Tail

In Loving Memory

LUCINDA SEALS
1929 - 1949

To attempt to telescope the achievement of a life so full as Lucinda Seals' in a few words is as impossible as catching all the colors of a sunlight prism. Lucinda imprinted a shining example of a marvelously full and fruitful life at Glen Alpine High School. Her high ideals of life were an inspiration to the many people that knew her. The Turkey Tail of 1951 is published in loving memory of its first Editor-in-Chief, Lucinda Seals.



ALMA MATER

In the heart of old Burke County,
'Neath the skies of blue,
Stands our noble Alma Mater,
Glorious to view.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
G. A. S. all hail!

Classic in her broad proportion,
Look she proudly down,
Reared against the arch of heaven,
With her stars for crown.

Lift the chorus, speed it onward,
May it never fail,
Hail to thee, our Alma Mater,
G. A. S. all hail!

MASCOTS

May we introduce our mascots,
Betty Gail Haskins and Gary Bennett.

Betty Gail is an adorable little blonde in the first grade. Gary is "Hoof's" brother and we hope he inherits a lot of his talent.

WE WHO GO BEFORE
WILL TO THOSE WHO FOLLOW

Since it is customary for those who pass through this fleeting and uncertain life to leave behind them some token of remembrance and some document to insure them of their departure, we, the Senior Class of 1951, realizing the nearing end of our bounteous years at Glen Alpine High School, do hereby decree this our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

To Mr. and Mrs. Young and the faculty, we leave our appreciation and thankfulness for your guidance and encouragement that have made us better citizens in this world we will someday govern.

ARTICLE II

We extend to each grammar grade teacher our profound gratitude for establishing the intellectual and cultural realm of life.

ARTICLE III

To the classes:

To our successors, the Juniors, we bestow upon you our rights, privileges, and dignity that we as seniors had.

To the Sophomores, we leave our patience, the only means by which they can endure the Juniors.

To the Freshmen, we bequeath all our dreams and unachieved ambitions.

To the persons concerned:

Margaret Davis leaves her jolly giggles to Jewel Denney. I, Marlene Collins, will my vivacious curves and my ability to catch a man to Joan Owens. Clyde (Soak) Ollis' ability to stretch the truth is left to Richard Parker, and his slim physique to Bobby Mills. (Hope it fits).

Nancy Carswell leaves her flirtatious tendencies to Estelle Benfield. I, Jimmy Bennett, will my muscles to Earl Lane, and my ability to sleep in Business English to anyone who needs it more than I. To David Jarrett goes Johnny Brown's dignity and studious manners. The beautiful handwriting of Frank Bright goes to anyone who still scribbles.

Mary Etta Abernathy passes down her good looks to Edna Reep. Dolores Lloyd wills her love for the stronger sex to Eleanor Walton. Raymond Michaels bestows upon Bobby Beach his sweet disposition. Zora Mae Tate is the receiver of Jewel Hipps' surplus boy friends. J. L. Ledbetter confers his "little boy" appearance to Russell Kincaid.

John Henry Giles leaves his "come-hither" look to Miles Swink. Betty Mayfield bequeaths her ability to build air castles to Vivian Simpson. Mackie Reep leaves his debonair manners to Eddie Epley. I, Minnie Rhoades, bequeath my ability to keep quiet at the right time to Daisy Ethel Epley.

Bob Nichols leaves to Allen Kincaid his most serious nature, realizing that even that will not be very serious. Mariana Perkins leaves her frequent smiles to Louise Duckworth. Wilma Jarrett confers her sweet temper to Anna Ruth Scott.

Jane Childress bequeaths her brains of superior weight to Clarence Poteat, hoping that he will use them. I, Allen Browning, have nothing to leave so I'll just leave. Tommy Rich entrusts his ability to make love to anyone that can outdo him. Evelyn William is left Ruby Nell Scott's "gift for gab." Charles Bennett confers his keen imagination to Virgil Pipes. Harry Lee White is the heir of Jo Billy Roper's mischievious looks. Jannette Hall leaves her doorsteps to Joyce Queen.

I, Joann Pollard, last but not least, leave all my fun in high school to Doris White.

A TELEVISION TRAVELOGUE

"Television will be more popular and widely used than radio within the next fifteen years." . . . So read the last sentence of "The Future of Television," which I had been reading in the library.

Well, television seemed to have a bright future but how about us seniors of 1951? As I thought, my eyelids fluttered—then closed and the years sped past in my mind . . .

I was just turning on our new television set, the latest 1965 model. AH! this looks interesting.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, we have the pleasure this evening of presenting the first 'Television Travelogue' ever shown on a national hookup. This program is brought to you through the efforts of the eminent scientist, Bob Nichols, who has been experimenting for the advancement of television. (I guess that was the cause of his explosion at G.A.H.S. in 1950, eh?).

"We now take you to our Television studios in Glen Alpine, North Carolina, where Tom Rich will take charge. Take it away station A.T.O.M."

"Thank you N.B.C. Our first scene is laid here in Glen Alpine, where ceremonies for the dedication of the new Recreation Center are about to begin. Clyde Ollis made this building possible through his donations. J. L. Ledbetter designed it, and the Roper Construction Company had charge of the building. We regret that we must take leave of this celebration as it gets underway, but Joann Pollard is waiting in Florida to tell you about the Mid-Winter fashion show. Here we come, Florida."

"Here on the balmy shores of the Atlantic Ocean have gathered a group of the most famous fashion designers and the most outstanding fashion models to display the forthcoming spring fashions. Among the most prominent designers present is Marlene Collins who originated 'Clothes by Marlene' fashions. The fashion show has begun, and the first model you see is Margaret Davis, dressed in a flame-red chiffon evening dress. I could go on for hours describing this lovely show but my time is up. This is Joann Pollard in Florida turning you to Allen Browning in Hollywood."

"This is Allen Browning in Hollywood, speaking to you from the set of 'Lost,' a best-seller written by John Henry Giles, in which he tells of his experience in the U. S. Navy. It is now being filmed by R.K.O. and directed by Betty Mayfield. (Who said women couldn't do this sort of work? Here's your proof!) The music you hear in the background is the Mackie Reep orchestra playing their theme song, written by his pianist Ruby Nell Scott. Since that theme is my cue, I'll turn the show over to Raymond Michaels in Salt Lake City where the National Association of Newspaper and Magazine Publishers Convention is being held."

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I am speaking to you from the new Armory here in Salt Lake City. The man you see standing, trying to hide his notes from his audience, is Jim Bennett, President of the NANMP. There, now you see several of the guests. Left to right, they are: Dolores Lloyd, editor of McCall's; Wilma Jarrett and Mary Etta Abernathy, staff members of the Ladies' Home Journal; (the former has charge of the household column and the latter writes the lovelorn page.) Representing Life magazine is Jewel Hipps, who has just returned from a business trip (so she says) to London. We now turn our camera once again to the platform where the awards are about to be presented for achievement in journalism by Mr. Bennett."

"The first award is for the best news photography, which goes to Nancy Carswell of the Chicago Daily Tribune. The prize for the most efficient sports writer goes to Charles Bennett. Minnie Rhoades has been voted the best columnist of women's news; and Nancy Heavner, now employed by the Glen Alpine Yodler, which rivals any paper in the state of North Carolina, has been named the best society editor."

"Thank you, Mr. Bennett. This is Raymond Michaels in Salt Lake City returning you to our Studios in Glen Alpine, North Carolina and Tom Rich."

"Back in Glen Alpine we have come to the grand finale of the Travelogue—a visit to an average small American city where the average American lives a well rounded, abundant life. Johnny Brown and Mariana Perkins, our roving reporters, have just finished a survey and the house you see is where, in their opinion, lives the typical American family, the backbone of our nation. The house is in Carbon City, North Carolina and the owners are Frank and Jannette Bright. (Everyone knew that would be a match!)"

"Thus we have completed our Television Travelogue and we hope—"

As the bell brings my mind back to the present, there are tears in my eyes. But these tears are of joy and not of sorrow, because our world tomorrow is going to be a better place in which to live."
